on September 19th, 2017

Amended and passed during the 6th Departmental Affairs Meeting of the 2019 Academic Year on June 2nd, 2020

- I. The current Enforcement Rules (hereinafter referred to as the Rules) is based on the “National Taiwan Normal University Five Ways of Life Scholarship Regulations”.

- II. Qualification: Current undergraduate students of the Department of Earth Sciences

- III. Awards:
 1. The Ethics Education Award: For those who demonstrate efforts to cultivate character education, clarify moral values, and promote a collegial atmosphere; those who are enthusiastic to serve and care about the wellbeing of the society.
 2. The Intellect Education Award: For those who demonstrate acquisition of professional knowledge, or outstanding performance in academic or technical competitions.
 3. The Athletics Education Award: For those who demonstrate a healthy physique, dedication to fitness, dedication to the promotion of mental and physical wellbeing, and integration of athleticism in their life, or outstanding performance in sports competitions.
 4. The Group Education Award: For those who practice group cooperation, promote social relations, and realize the strength of collective wisdom and efforts; for those who demonstrate leadership, the spirit of mutual assistance, and fraternity among their peers.
 5. The Aesthetics Education Award: For those who have enhanced the awareness of aesthetics and the understanding of the arts; for those who have demonstrated talents in humanities, arts, or music. Or those who excelled in artistic or musical competitions.

- IV. Number of Awards and Nomination: The scholarship shall be awarded once per semester. Awardees shall be selected in accordance with the following guidelines:
 1. Each class may nominate one candidate for each award (i.e., the awards for ethics, intellect, athletics, group, and aesthetics). If the size of the class is more than 50 persons, the class may nominate an additional candidate for each award. Each student may receive more than one award as long as they are not the same award.
 2. All those who have met the descriptions of the awards and can demonstrate by specific deed in the previous semester may submit their application to the department office within the announced application period of the semester. The chair of the department will form a Nomination Committee with academic advisers and the student adviser (with one non-candidate student from each grade attending as non-voting member) from all grade levels. Upon approval by the committee, the recommendation form and list of student names shall be submitted to the Division of Student Services of the Office of Student Affairs for scholarship processing. Each award winning student shall receive a certificate and a scholarship of NT$2,500.

3. In cases where there are no nominations for one or some of the awards in a class, the nomination quota may be used for other awards.

V. Funding: The scholarship shall be funded by the university under the item of Student Funds and Incentives.

VI. The scholarship shall be recorded in the student's e-portfolio.

VII. Students who have received all five awards shall be awarded the "Certificate of Cheng Zheng Qin Pu" in a public ceremony.

VIII. The current rules shall be implemented upon passage at a Departmental Affairs Meeting. The same will apply to all of its subsequent amendments.
